Reapportionment Proposals Given To Legislators

By PHIL GUNBY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State lawmakers now have three reapportionment proposals to go with the congressional redistricting bill which has furrowed so many brows.

Remapping proposals stem from recent U. S. Supreme Court decisions. These say that no member of the U. S. or Ohio House of Representatives should have a district varying considerably in population from others in the state.

The legislative reapportionment resolutions call for approval by voters at next May's primary. They were discussed at varying length in a late afternoon Republican House caucus, further discussed on into the evening by the Republican leadership.

Strikes Jolt U.S. Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Motors strike last month gave the nation's economy its roughest jolt since the 1960 recession, and the effect may linger if the current strike at Ford Motor Co. puts another extended damper on production.

Government economists fretted today about the possibility that labor disputes could cause a general business slowdown after an almost uninterrupted climb of four years.

If the Ford stoppage is settled quickly, there remains the threat of a nationwide rail strike next week. There is talk of trouble in the steel industry, even though the contract deadline is months away.

Both government and business economists have expressed concern over the possibility that wage settlements such as the one at General Motors could lead to a heavy round of inflation after four years of relative stability. Now they also face the possibility that the same labor-management disputes could lead to a sag in the economy.

The Federal Reserve Board reported Monday that its index of industrial production had fallen from 134.0 in September to 131.7 in October. The scale is based on a value of 100 for the 1957-59 average. Thus the October rate was 31.7 per cent higher than that of the late 1950s.

The October drop was only about 1.7 per cent, but it was the first time in more than a year that the scales had dipped, and the size of the decline was the largest since December 1960, near the end of a recession. There was a considerably larger decline in industrial production during the nationwide steel strike in 1959.

The Federal Reserve said that "recovery in November will be dampened by the beginning of strikes at other plants in the auto industry."

Although deliveries of new cars fell 30 per cent, retail sales continued to climb in other lines, and the overall effect was a decline of only 3 per cent for the month. The output of business equipment was 10 per cent ahead of a year earlier.

Since strikers are counted as employed in Labor Department statistics on unemployment, the jobless rate held steady at 5.2 per cent last month. There was a reduction in employment.

Ringo Must Face Tonsillectomy

LONDON (AP)—The Beatles' drummer, Ringo Starr, is going to have his tonsils out.

A spokesman for University College Hospital says Ringo will undergo surgery shortly, but the date is not fixed.

Ringo had been putting the operation off since last June. Last month the nurses at London's Whittington Hospital appealed to him to face up to the surgeon.

ership, and introduced at a late evening skeleton session about the time many early-rising Ohioans were going to bed.

All three call for expanding the present three-member (governor, auditor, secretary of state) apportionment board to seven by adding a majority and minority member from House and Senate. But from there, the approach differs.

In addition to the three resolutions dealing with reapportionment, the House received a bill which would revise conservancy district laws on appraisal procedure and remedies in connection with collection of assessments.

Caucusing before their afternoon floor session, House Republicans chose Rep. Roger Cloud as speaker for the fifth time in his career. The 1965 session over which he will preside is the De Graff (Logan County) farmer-contractor's ninth.

Only one of the three resolutions on legislative reapportionment is to be printed at this time.

That one would change the Divisor—the number to be divided into Ohio's last federal census figure (1960—9,706,397) to determine ratio of representation—from 100 to 140. The result of that division thus would change from 97,064 to 69,332 and enlarge the Ohio House to 144, seven more than will hold seats in the session starting Jan. 4.

For Cuyahoga, Hamilton and Franklin counties, representing one or more congressional districts in themselves, there would be one representative for each full ratio (69,332 persons), elected at-large in the congressional district or districts. If there is difficulty in making a division of representatives between congressional districts in the county, "extras" would be elected at-large in the entire county.

Where a district overlaps part of another county, the overlap would be respected as a separate county. The apportionment board would form the rest of the state into representative districts, each with population generally equal to the 69,332 ratio. County lines would not be crossed if it could be avoided.

Fifty-nine counties have population less than the ratio, based in the 1960 census.

The measure—generally considered to be the one toward which the leadership leans—also changes terms of state representatives from two to four years, starting Jan. 1, 1967.

All three reapportionment resolutions go to the House Rules Committee. Each needs approval by three-fifths of the members of both houses.

The second calls for the expanded apportionment board to divide the state into representative districts of approximately equal population by Nov. 1, 1965. Failing to agree on the allocation in any area, the board would designate the number of representatives based on population and call for their election.

Skin Divers Find Plane Under Water

CINCINNATI (AP)—Four Highway Patrol skin divers reported today they had located a small training plane which was seen to crash in the Ohio River Monday with two aboard.

The skin divers reported from midstream that the plane was found in about 25 feet of water and about 200 feet from the shore.

The bodies of the two victims were found in the cockpit. They were identified as flight instructor Fred Standifer, 23, Cincinnati, and James Stenger, 20, Indianapolis. Stenger, a student at Xavier University, was learning to fly as part of the Army Reserve Officers' training course.

Officials said operations to pull the plane out of the river could not be undertaken until a crane could be brought to the scene. The spot where the plane was reported found is about 300 feet west of a boat harbor, upstream from the River Downs race track.

They have been missing since they took off from Lunken Airport in the Cessna 150 trainer at about 2:10 p.m. Monday.

LBJ, Lady Bird Celebrate 30th

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I hope this marriage lasts," the minister said 30 years ago when the bridegroom, Lyndon Baines Johnson, was in such a hurry he forgot to buy a ring.

They'll probably laugh about it again tonight at a family dinner party in the White House.

Lady Bird Johnson still keeps as a memento the Sears, Roebuck ring hastily purchased because young Johnson goofed on the day of their wedding in old St. Mark's Episcopal Church in San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 17, 1934. The Rev. Arthur K. McKinstry officiated.

Their 30-year marriage milestone comes exactly two weeks after the election in which the Johnsons were assured another four-year lease on the White House.

They got the election returns in the Driskill Hotel in Austin, Tex., a spot of fond memories. It was there Lyndon and Lady Bird had their first date—breakfast in the hotel's coffee shop.

It was all a far cry from the day they were married, Lyndon, 26, and Claudia Alta (Lady Bird) Taylor, 21. Johnson then was secretary to Texas Rep. Richard Kleberg.

Only last week, entertaining the president-elect of Mexico, Johnson recalled he and his wife had honeymooned in Mexico at Xochimilco, famed for its floating gardens.

Recently Mrs. Johnson said she thought her husband was a remarkable man when she married him.

"I still think he's remarkable—and I know a lot more about him," she added with a smile.

Tonight the Johnsons hope to celebrate the occasion in privacy with their daughters, Lynda, 20, and Luci, 17.

Plane Missed Clearing Top By Two Feet

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—"Just this much more and he would have cleared that ridge," a sheriff's deputy said Monday, holding his hands about two feet apart.

He was standing in hard-packed snow 50 yards from the ridge called Arden Dome that stopped a Bonanza Airlines F27 turboprop Sunday night. All 29 aboard died in the crash.

Clearly visible from where he stood was Las Vegas' McCarran Field, nine miles to the north, the destination of Flight No. 114 from Phoenix.

Pilot Hank Fitzpatrick, 41, radioed McCarran tower at 8:25 p.m., two minutes before the plane vanished from a radar scope during a heavy snowfall. The only persons who knew what happened in that two minutes are dead.

A swarm of sheriff's deputies and volunteers removed all the bodies from the 4,200-foot high ridge on the western flank of Las Vegas Valley with the aid of helicopters from nearby Nellis Air Force Base.

The plane did not burn. It broke apart and its pieces jumbled northward across the top of the dome. Bodies were thrown in every direction.

Edward Slattery of the Civil Aeronautics Board said, "It's too soon to tell what happened. We don't know yet if we are going to reconstruct the wreckage. It would be an extremely difficult job."

His office has impounded the plane's flight recorder. Slattery and two dozen other CAB and FBI officials met Monday night in Las Vegas.

Only 10 bodies had been identified early today.

Glenn Reiterates Need for Center

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. has reiterated his claim that the nation needs a space information center to make new knowledge available to educators.

Glenn, the first American to orbit the earth, told a Career Guidance Clinic here Monday there is a gap between the sources of new information and space and science instructors. Some 300 educators and administrators attended the clinic at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Performer Killed In Auto Collision

PETERBOROUGH, England (AP)—Dennis Spicer, a 29-year-old ventriloquist who had appeared on both British and American television programs, was killed in an automobile collision Monday night.

Lying beside him in the wreckage was his favorite dummy, "Jimmy Green."

Spicer, a star of the royal variety performance before Queen Elizabeth II two weeks ago, was to have made a return appearance soon on the Ed Sullivan Show. He was married and had a 4-year-old son.

University Fire Fiend Has Odd Sense of Humor

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Somebody with a perverted sense of humor—or a grudge against the school—has the Miami University campus all fired up.

There have been 10 fires on the campus since Nov. 3, all of them what a Miami spokesman described as "in a nuisance category." Seven of them happened in a seven-hour period Monday.

"In every case there has been an open door near the fire," the spokesman added, "and they all seem to have been set so they would be quickly discovered."

Off-duty security guards were called in shortly after the 7:45 p.m. fire in the McGuffey Hall auditorium which destroyed half a stage curtain and damaged some sets.

The rash of fires began Nov. 3 when someone set fire to a map in a Harrison Hall classroom during the noon hour. A bulletin board in the same building

REX E. HAECKER

R. E. Haecker Named Deputy State Auditor

State Auditor Chester W. Gobel today appointed Rex E. Haecker, 52, of 166 E. High St., as deputy state auditor.

Haecker, a career employee in the auditor's office, has served as supervisor of all school audits in Ohio and state departments, including the annual audit of the state treasury.

He was appointed the auditor position by present Governor James Rhodes (who was then serving as state auditor). Late Auditor Roger Tracy continued his services in that office.

Haecker has been responsible or a complete revision of the auditing system of schools. He recently has undertaken the task of revising a system for auditing libraries throughout the state.

AUDITOR Gobel said today "I am pleased to have Mr. Haecker serve as a deputy during my interim term as auditor of state and to be able to make an appointment giving emphasis to career service."

Haecker, a Circleville native, first entered service with the state auditor's office in 1937 as assistant supervisor of examiners. He has served continually with the exception of 4½ years military duty during World War II. He was discharged from service with the rank of captain.

The new deputy auditor was educated in Circleville schools. He is a graduate of Western Reserve University and did post graduate work at Harvard Business College.

Jury Charges Cancer Cure Backers Lied

49 Counts Filed
Against Dr. Ivy,
Krebiozen Group

CHICAGO (AP)—Promoters of Krebiozen, including Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, internationally known physiologist, were indicted today for conspiracy, mail fraud, mislabeling and making false statements to the government about the product they claim is used to treat cancer.

The indictment, returned by a federal grand jury, also named as defendants the Krebiozen Research Foundation, Promak Laboratories where the drug was packaged and three other men: Dr. Stevan Durovic, 59, discover of the drug; his brother, Marko, 64, a lawyer and Dr. William E.P. Phillips, 52, an official of the foundation, all of Chicago.

The indictment supersedes an earlier one which named only the Durovic brothers as individuals.

Bench warrants were issued for the arrest of those named. The Durovics are free on their own recognizance after their bond was set at $500,000 each on the original indictment.

The new bond was set at $5,000 for all defendants, except the Durovics. Their original bond stands.

Dr. Ivy, a leading proponent of the drug, is research professor of biochemistry at Roosevelt University and a former vice president of the University of Illinois.

The indictment charges that the defendants reported one Krebiozen patient healthy when he had been dead six years.

Acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach also announced the indictment in Washington.

It charges that they reported the cost of producing one gram of Krebiozen as $170.00 when it actually is a common chemical costing about 30 cents a gram.

The indictment also charges that one defendant signed a death certificate on a Krebiozen patient whose death was reported to the government as being caused by pneumonia when the defendants knew she had died of cancer.

Charges issued Oct. 27 said Durovic brothers conspired to promote Krebiozen as an investigational drug while it was being sold in interstate commerce.

These are some of the grand jury's allegations, Katzenbach said.

Court Gives Monday Date To Ted Brown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court has given Secretary of State Ted W. Brown until Nov. 23 to defend his firing of three members of the Cuyahoga County election board for alleged irregularities.

Board member A. L. DeMaio, Republican county chairman, appealed his dismissal to the high court Monday. The other two fired actions today. They were Democrats Ray T. Miller and Dan W. Duffy.

The court granted alternative writs of prohibition preventing Brown from declaring their posts vacant and filling them until final disposition of their litigation.

Brown acted after investigating reports of "ward hopping" in the county, a ballot mixup in a local option election and other alleged irregularities.

UAW Chief Leaves World Conference

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, cut short his stay at the World Auto Workers' Congress in Frankfurt and returned to the United States today.

County Solons Okay Roads At Area Housing Addition

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners, meeting in regular session yesterday, moved to accept roads and boulevards as provided in the Gorsuch Meadowview Addition north of Circleville.

The step authorizes dedication of the right-of-ways to public use. According to an original plat, part of the housing addition is in the city and part in the county (Circleville Twp.).

The county portion of the plat listed 5.71 acres in the township, with provisions for 20 lots. The city portion, approved by Circleville Council in April of this year, also lists 20 lots.

Prices of dog tags for 1962 was brought under review by the county solons. A motion to keep the fee at $3 per dog was approved.

THE RATE was increased to $3 in 1962 to meet increased sheep claims which are paid out of this fund. Although there were earlier indications the fee might be dropped back to $2 per dog, yesterday's motion to maintain the present charge was approved by all three commissioners.

Kennel tags are scheduled to remain at $15 for a pen of five dogs.

In other business, the solons authorized the purchase of a 1965 stationwagon for the County Engineer's Department. The vehicle will be bought from Joe Moats Motor Sales, Lancaster Pike.

The contract calls for the new used by the Engineer's Department. Actual cost of the new vehicle will be $2,046, with $1,100 allowed on the trade-in.

Mrs. George Hamman III, Route 2, Williamsport, was appointed to serve as a member of the Pickaway County Child Welfare Board. She will fill the unexpired term of Sylvia Johnson who resigned the post recently.

Mrs. Hamman's duties will extend to Jan. 2, 1967.

Hunters' Autos Are Burglarized

Three out-of-county residents who were hunting in Pickaway County yesterday reported their cars were burglarized while the vehicles were parked on or near local roads.

Charles G. Rife of Reynoldsburg said a 22 caliber rifle with a scope, valued at $65, was taken from his auto parked near Route 104, just north of Route 22.

Entry was gained by breaking a window.

Paul Early, Waverly, reported a spare tire was taken from his auto.

Paul Stonerock, Chillicothe, listed a cap, gun case, some shot gun shells, two sack lunches and a set of false teeth taken from his car.

1961 and reported that "under present conditions, and with the advantage of my repeated production, I would be able to produce Krebiozen, up to 15 grams, for $170,000 per gram." In reality, the indictment charges, Krebiozen is creatine monohydrate, a substance which can be purchased for 30 cents a gram and which, even if produced in the manner claimed by Durovic, would cost only some $8,000 per gram.

Krebiozen allegedly was branded falsely as having been extracted from the blood of horses, when, in fact, it is a common laboratory chemical. The indictment says that contrary to Krebiozen's labeling claims, the Krebiozen foundation conducted no scientific study and was responsible for no important development in cancer research.

According to the indictment, the defendants submitted to the government the medical records of 504 cancer patients treated with Krebiozen. The cases were studied by a committee of cancer experts, and the National Cancer Institute of the U.S. Public Health Service concluded on the basis of that study that there is no evidence Krebiozen is of value in treating cancer.

The indictment includes one count of conspiracy naming all four men, which carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine; five counts of submitting false information to the government, each of which carries the same penalty; 38 counts of violating the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act with intent to defraud, each count of mail fraud each carrying a five-year prison term and a $1,000 fine.

Rain Brings Some Relief

CHICAGO (AP) — Rain swept across the eastern half of the United States, somewhat easing one of the most severe autumn droughts in history, but many areas continued to battle brush fires and to seek emergency water supplies.

Rainfall over much of the Midwest dampened charred fields and forests, but in the East water supplies dwindled and intermittent precipitation did little to alleviate serious drought conditions and fires in woodland areas.

Substantial showers moved over Southern Illinois, wetting the area where fires destroyed some 15,000 acres of timber this fall. It ended a 48-day rainless span for Cairo in the southern tip of Illinois.

Rain in Indiana broke a 19-day drought, and a four-day ban on outdoor fires was lifted.

Rain fell throughout Ohio, but the U.S. Weather Bureau said it wasn't enough to alter the dry situation plaguing south-central and southwestern counties and threatening forests there.

New England, which has suffered through its worst autumn drought in history, had some relief.

A final march on a raw, foggy day, Nov. 2, 1805, brought Lewis and Clark to their goal. "Ocean in view," wrote Clark. "Oh! the joy."

Halleck Offers GOP Consolation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles A. Halleck sat in his quiet Capitol office, surveyed the election results and said, "The '36 debacle was worse than this."

The House Republican leader from Indiana told a news conference: "I can't read into the results any great mandate to change the course of the country."

As for the immediate, specific consequences, he said, "If you ask me I guess Medicare will go through." He referred to medical care for the elderly under Social Security which has been stuck in a House committee despite President Johnson's prodding.

He also said Johnson could probably get through his proposal to aid the Appalachia area — a key part of his antipoverty program.

Should Barry Goldwater bow out of the national Republican picture after his defeat in the presidential race?

"Adlai Stevenson didn't bow out, did he?" said Halleck. "And he got licked pretty bad." Halleck had kind words for Republican National Chairman Dean Burch and said any changes in the Republican National Committee were its own responsibilities — not his.

Asked to comment on rumbles of discontent in the party with his own House leadership, Halleck said, "No one has said anything antagonistic to me." He said he had read such things in newspapers and "from time to time they've had me chewed up and dumped into the ash can."

On the Senate side of Capitol Hill, Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said he hopes Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., will continue to serve as chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee. "He's my choice if he will take it," Mundt said in an interview. The South Dakotan will be seeking re-election in 1966.

Nineteen Democratic and 14

Monroe Council Holds Meetings

Monroe Township Advisory Council No. 10 held its November meeting recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tallman and family.

Francis Furniss, chairman, opened the meeting and heard the roll call and secretary's report. Dale Stubbs presented the topic, "Managing Our Money" which was read and discussed.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Elbee Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Folliard, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss, Miss Laura Long, Dale Stubbs and Jeannie Neff.

The December meeting will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Folliard and the topic will be "Strengthening Our Farm Organizations."

Traps Are Stolen

Larry Detty, Meade, told the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department that 45 traps he had set in Salt Creek were stolen yesterday.

Republican Senate seats will be at stake two years from now. Seven of the Democrats are from the South where Republicans have been able to win only a few congressional seats in the past. Outside the South, Senate Democrats who will be up for re-election appear to be entrenched in several states which have not gone Republican recently.

The Republican drive to gain Senate strength in 1966 is likely to be centered on Illinois, Oklahoma, New Hampshire, Michigan, Montana and Oregon.

All but one of the 14 Senate Republicans whose terms expire in 1966 are from states carried Nov. 3 by President Johnson. The exception is Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, a Democrat who turned Republican to support Goldwater in the campaign.

Proposals for rebuilding the Republican party will be discussed Dec. 4 and 5 when the nation's Republican governors meet — either in Denver or Chicago.

Kennedy Film Revives Pain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sometimes in glowing color, sometimes in somber black and white, the years of John F. Kennedy moved across the screen, reached out and revived the pain of a year ago.

"Have you ever seen anything that tore your heart out so completely?" Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., asked a friend after the premiere showing of the U.S. Information Agency's memorial movie, "John F. Kennedy: Years of Lightning, Day of Drums."

The late president's Food for Peace director may well have been speaking for all the New Frontiersmen who made up Monday night's blacktie audience — and for those who were so moved they left the State Department auditorium unable to speak.

The film, which covers Kennedy's administration from the day of his inauguration until the day of drums — the day on which he was buried, was prepared by USIA for showing around the world.

Gregory Peck is the narrator. The film is alternately in black and white and color because film clips from various sources were used.

Color sequences of the final day — when the president's body was moved from the Capitol to St. Matthew's Cathedral and to burial in Arlington — are threaded through it, making the day of drums a recurring theme.

In line with its usual practice, USIA has no plans to show the film inside the United States, a spokesman said.

As USIA interprets the law, it is supposed to use its funds for activities overseas, not at home. Some congressmen have been quick to object in the past if they thought the output of the overseas propaganda agency was being directed at the home folk.

Suit Here For $150,000 Under Way

A $150,000 lawsuit entered its second day of testimony today in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Thomas Griffey, a local teenager, is the plaintiff in the court action. He is being represented by Robert H. and Roy H. Huffer Jr.

Harold G. and Paul Marshall and Kenneth Majors are defendants and are being represented by the Columbus firm of Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease. Emmitt L. Crist is the Columbus firm's local counsel.

The $150,000 claim was filed here following an accident which allegedly left the Griffey youth with a "permanent injury to his left leg." The accident occurred July 19, 1962, while Griffey was riding his bicycle along the highway.

A truck driven by Majors (who was in the employ of the Marshall firm) was transporting a mower and as the truck passed the Griffey youth, according to the accident report, a bolt broke releasing the cutter bar of the mower which struck the cyclist on the left leg.

According to testimony, the youth suffered a compound fracture of the leg and a severed nerve which left the boy with a crippled foot and leg.

JURORS were expected to return their verdict late this afternoon. Judge William Ammer is hearing the case.

Serving on the petit jury are Weaver Wolfe, Glenna Beckman, Mary C. Hay, Kenneth Black, Bert Ratcliff, Roberta Webb, Eileen Ward, Emmitt Morgan, Grace Ann Hulse, Everett Peters, Ronald Harrison and Betty Dresbach. Eldon J. Long is the thirteenth juror.

NASA Probe Confirms Jet Crash Theory

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A National Aeronautics and Space Administration board has confirmed that a goose caused the fatal plane crash of astronaut Theodore C. Freeman, 34, Oct. 31.

The board report said the snow goose — weighing eight pounds and with a wingspread of more than 24 inches — struck the astronaut's plane as it came in for a landing.

Despite the loss of power, Freeman attempted to land his aircraft and in the last few seconds he headed for an open field, probably to avoid nearby Ellington Air Force Base building, the board said.

He ejected himself but time was insufficient for the parachute to effectively open.

The board said the goose struck the left front of the canopy and probably some of the debris went into the air intake of the engines, causing the two engines to flame out.

Beds Needed By Hospitals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes was told Monday that Ohio's general hospitals need 900 beds immediately for psychiatric patients.

That report came from Martin A. Janis, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Dr. George T. Harding Sr., chairman of a citizens committee, said a projection of needs shows the hospital around the state will require another 100 beds, in addition to the 900 now needed, by 1970.

The reports were made at a meeting of Rhodes' Mental Health Planning Committee.

The World Today

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is preparing to send his own legislative program along the old, storm-swept congressional trail.

This time it will carry his brand alone rather than the joint JFK-LBJ sign of the previous Congress. The Texas rancher is sure to watch over it as if it were a prize newborn calf.

The congressional signs bode well for the President's program. Johnson's Democrats will have their biggest majority in the House since the New Deal days and have increased their top-heavy edge in the Senate.

But big majorities don't dazzle Johnson. The man who made his reputation generalizing Democratic forces in the Senate believes that leadership is the key to success.

So he is faced with a problem: filling Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey's shoes as the party's assistant leader — or more descriptively, the whip — in the Senate.

It's a big job and big shoes. Sen. Mike Mansfield, the majority leader, is of a scholarly nature, free of pugnacity. Thus much of the heavy legislative line plunging was left to the staccato-talking man in motion: Humphrey.

Johnson approved of the way he did it, so much so that he picked him as his running mate, gaining a vice president but losing a Senate whip.

Who will replace Humphrey? A number of senators want to try.

Russell B. Long of Louisiana, Mike Monroney of Oklahoma and John O. Pastore of Rhode Island all have announced they would like the job and circulated letters to their colleagues seeking support.

Other names have been mentioned, including Sens. Edmund Muskie of Maine and Philip A. Hart of Michigan.

Car Accident Results in $50,400 Suit

A $50,400 lawsuit has been filed in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court against a West Virginia man as the result of an auto accident that occurred here Nov. 23, 1962.

Robert M. Dick, 341 E. Franklin St., is the plaintiff of the court action. He is seeking judgment from George A. Briesse, Bethlehem, W. Va.

Dick's petition claims that Briesse failed to heed a stop sign at the intersection of Washington and Union Sts. and caused the accident.

The plaintiff says, as a result of the accident, he received traumatic injury to his back and "has been suffering severe pain and tonic spasms at frequent intervals that require the administration of sedatives."

Dick, a salesman for the Beckett Implement Co., has since the date of the accident suffered a loss of earnings in the approximate sum of $9,200 and will suffer a loss of earning in the future for an indefinite length of time, the petition states.

Ray W. Davis, local attorney, represents Dick in the lawsuit.

What's the connection between Interconnection —and Ohio's TV sets?

Between 6 and 8 o'clock each weekday evening, nearly one million Ohioans switch on their TV sets. Interconnection provides added assurance that there is always enough electricity to meet such sudden increases of demand.

To give you better service for all your electrical needs, Ohio's investor-owned electric companies share power with each other through a large network of transmission lines.

Ohio is a key state in the biggest of the nation's power pools, started more than 30 years ago. This group now includes utilities serving 39 states east of the Rockies.

Interconnection directly benefits you in many ways. Here are two: (1) It increases the dependability of your electric service. (2) It provides savings by reducing the amount of standby facilities needed by your electric company... helping to keep electricity low in price.

Interconnection is a significant example of what is being done by investor-owned companies, helping each other in a neighborly manner to serve you better!

Russia Gains Mirages

Since the temperature of the cold war has fluctuated with Soviet farm output, U. S. economists have been busying themselves with statistics on the Russian economy as much as with figures on their own.

Consequently, the word is out that the Russian economy is due for a gain in 1964. The truth is, it has been due for an uplift for many years, but nature or world conditions, or something, never cooperates to the point where the Russian peasants could be said to have truly reaped a bountiful harvest.

This year will be no exception. Statistics will show a slight increase in output compared to last year, but this will be no amazing achievement. Last year was disastrous for the Soviet economy, particularly in agriculture, which is the mainstay of the whole.

Grain, the Soviet's main agricultural product and one of its largest cash crops in international trade, provides a barometer of the country's economic progress. Last year the harvest was so poor at least 12 million tons of grain were imported, and the government has forbade the actual output to be published.

An increase of 5 or 10 per cent this year in the grain harvest over last year, as some of the more optimistic economists are predicting, will be meaningless in terms of real progress. Soviet stockpiles of grain were virtually exhausted during the 1963 shortages. These must be replaced as a cushion against another severe failure.

Merely keeping up with population increases and attempts to raise living standards in a country like the Soviet Union would require an annual increase in grain crops of 5 to 10 per cent. If this year turns out reasonably well for Soviet agriculture, at best the country will be where it was at the end of 1962.

Soviet industrial production for the first half of 1964 has been announced as 7.5 per cent greater than for the same period in 1963. In a highly industrialized society, such a rate of growth would be excellent. In a substandard industrial state, like the Soviet Union, this is slow improvement.

Anyway, the 7.5 per cent growth rate indicated at the middle point this year is the lowest rate of industrial growth claimed by the Soviets in the last two decades. It is a full percentage point behind last year's announced growth.

In the eyes of the Kremlin boss, worried about past failures, any increase looks rosy. But western eyes should take a more objective look at the Soviet performance, and the record so far this year shows the Russian economy in no position to support a hotter cold war.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel industry sees busy schedules in the final weeks of the year despite shutdowns in some customers' plants and stiff labor demands looming in steel's own.

The United Steelworkers Union is starting to map its campaign for spring negotiations. First it may have to settle a leadership fight in its ranks. And the fight is likely to increase its demands, whoever wins. Management already was on notice that the union's asking price would be much stiffer than last time.

Labor shutdowns in many auto plants this fall have held up steel shipments to these big customers. But steel production schedules so far have been affected little. Other customers have kept the mills busy. And orders on hand will keep many working near capacity for weeks ahead. Many companies will be using new equipment that eases production costs — and lifts profits.

The final weeks of the year, and the early ones of next year, look bright indeed.

Pressure for steel price increases continues strong, although held in check just now by White House frowns.

The upcoming bargaining with the steelworkers doesn't make the steel executives' task easier, nor does the uncertainty as to the outcome of the union's internal power struggle.

And customers aren't too happy either. The worst possibility they face would be a strike. Another outcome would be a labor settlement so generous that it would increase steel production costs and intensify the pressure for a price raise.

Either way customers stand to lose. And many already have started building up their steel stocks a bit, just in case.

If this movement gathers speed, as the fight in the union develops, and as the final labor demands take shape, steel mills would find themselves operating at full tilt for many weeks or even months.

Steel executives know, however, that this over-activity would only lead to a meltdown when customers start to live off their built up stocks.

And the industry doesn't relish such ups and downs.

Right now, though, the big stack of unfilled orders at the mills seem to be based quite solidly on real demand by customers who want to turn the metal into various industrial and consumer goods.

The auto industry reports sales strong — that is, as strong as strike-crippled production permits. It expects to make up much of its lost production in the weeks ahead. And hopefully it asserts that disappointed auto buyers will be lining up again when all cars are available.

The appliance industry also boasts of good sales and continuing demand. The construction industry continues to hum, except for a slight slowdown in home building. Railroad equipment makers see their revived prosperity lasting for some time.

It is impossible at this late date to discover what shy jokes Eve whispered to Adam, what clever boffs and bon mots Adam composed when he had earth's first lady as his only audience.

But here are a few stale remarks and timeworn quips they certainly didn't inflict on one another:

"I wouldn't marry you if you were the last man on earth."

"I want a girl just like the girl that married dear old dad."

"Enough is enough. I'm going to pack and go home to mother."

"I'm tired of supporting your brother. Let him get out and earn his own living for a change."

"Don't think you're the only fish that swims in the ocean."

"Do you think money grows on trees?"

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away."

"Now don't try and tell me you've been out with the boys until this hour!"

"No, I was sitting up with a sick friend."

"Don't forget to leave a tip."

"Who was the lady I saw you with last night?"

"Oh, since you insist, I'll just have a little martini."

"Step to the rear of the bus, please."

"The trouble with me is that my wife doesn't understand me."

"Well, I met the new neighbors today; if you ask me, they're both a mess."

"Don't you ever get tired of talking shop?"

On the other hand, some repartee hasn't changed at all since the Garden of Eden. We can surmise that when 'am first saw the sneaky snake, he must have muttered, "Two's company — three's a crowd."

Here are a few more timeless marital remarks which also undoubtedly originated with Eve and her husband:

"Why is it we never go anywhere anymore?"

"Can't a man have a little peace and quiet? Is that too much to ask?"

"You never listen to me. You never heard one word I said."

"I don't care if you did have it for lunch. You're having it for dinner, too."

"I don't have a single decent thing to wear — not one!"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

DR. LEO GREEN tells about an architect who promised to build a badly needed new auditorium for the church if he could be allowed to keep the construction plans a secret until the inaugural ceremonies. A record crowd turned up for the opening. The preacher, scheduled as usual to speak only until noon, was, as usual, just getting warmed up when he should have signed off.

But that's when the new plan became operative. At 12:03 sharp, a trap door opened, the preacher dropped into the basement, and the happy congregation went home to Sunday dinner.

An overnight guest at a motel near the Pennsylvania Turnpike was asked by the manager, "Would you like to be awakened in the morning, sir? Our night watchman will be happy to oblige." "That will be very helpful," nodded the guest. "I always get up at five a.m. sharp." The manager looked a bit startled, but rallied to mumble, "In that case, sir, would you mind waking the night watchman?"

There is no teacher as effective as experience, insists Wallace Stegner, of Stanford University. He cites as an example the boy who twisted the mule's tail. He isn't as pretty as he used to be—but he knows more.

The Move To Whitewash Hiss By John Chamberlain

There is a movement in this country that seems firmly bent on whitewashing the character of Alger Hiss, who was convicted of perjury as a by-product of his tangle with Whittaker Chambers in the most notorious American spy case of our generation.

This columnist has no interest in jumping up and down on Hiss, who has done his time in jail and is entitled to some measure of peace. But it so happens that there can be no rehabilitation of Hiss's reputation without a simultaneous downgrading of the character of Whittaker Chambers, and this should be hotly resented by anyone who knows something about the hell which Chambers endured when he tried to rectify his early political mistakes and come to the aid of his country at a critical time.

The latest turn in the Hiss rehabilitation campaign is a most curious one. A new literary publication, The New York Review of Books, assigned a posthumous collection of Whittaker Chambers's letters and essays, "Cold Friday," to an Irish ex-diplomat, Conor Cruise O'Brien. Just why this particular person was selected for this particular job is one of those mysteries which defy rational explanation. O'Brien happens at the moment to be the Chancellor of the University of Ghana in Accra, a post which he could hardly hold if he were persona non grata to Nkrumah, the very Leftist dictator of one of those non-aligned African nations that always seem to be non-aligning themselves to the sorrow of the democratic West. Before he took his job in Ghana, O'Brien, as the UN factotum in the Congo, played his part in the dipsy-doozy campaign to punish Moise Tshombe for the terrible sin of being pro-Western and pro-capitalist in his own Katanga province of the Congo. O'Brien wrote a book called "To Katanga and Back: A UN Case History" which is a delight to read from a purely literary standpoint. Before going to the Congo Conor Cruise O'Brien had been senior member of the Irish delegation to the UN in New York.

He seems to have thought of the Congo as a second Ireland, with secessionist Katanga cast in the role of Ulster. He also thinks that it was Whittaker Chambers who was the perjurer—a "veteran liar," he calls him in a review titled "The Perjured Saint." Chambers isn't around any more to sue O'Brien for libel.

Now what does an Irish authority on the Parnell case, which O'Brien happens to be, know about the Hiss case, which happened to unfold a long distance away from Dublin? The only internal evidence we have to go on in O'Brien's piece on "Cold Friday," which incidentally does not bother to review the book that is supposedly under discussion, is that the non-reviewing reviewer has consulted Lord Jowitt of England and Fred Cook, an American journalist who thinks J. Edgar Hoover's FBI is more of a danger to our institutions than the combined forces of Castro, Mao Tse-tung, and the Central Committee of the Communist Party in Moscow. It so happens that Lord Jowitt's book on the Hiss case had to be recalled by its American publisher, Doubleday and Company, for "a serious inadvertent factual error."

Conor Cruise O'Brien calls Whittaker Chambers a liar for two reasons. One, Chambers said he had known Alger Hiss's brother as a Communist and had collected party dues from him. Two, he said Mr. and Mrs. Hiss had told him of taking money from the educational fund of a stepson and diverting it to Communist political uses. The charge against Hiss's brother was categorically denied, which is par for the course and leaves the issue in the "You were — I wasn't" stage. As for the second instance, O'Brien says that the stepson got the money. But Chambers never said he didn't, he merely said the Hisses had told him he didn't, which is another thing entirely.

All of this is thrashing old straw, and proves nothing one way or the other about Chambers's veracity. It also does nothing to overturn the evidence that led a court to sentence Hiss for perjury.

Why, then, the sound and the fury? Why should a review of a most beautiful and poetic book that wrestles with the problems of man's fate in a time of trouble be diverted into strange channels that have nothing to do with the book in question? Is it because Chambers, unlike Senator Joe McCarthy, had some papers that proved something? Is it because he succeeded in making his case stick?

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

The virus is a sly little fellow that has become a subversive character in the health of our nation. His infamous position is secure because of the frequency with which he is accused of being the cause of Every form of distress that strikes the self-diagnosing patient.

The virus is always the first to be under suspicion whenever there is the slightest difficulty in explaining any personal complaint.

Patients sometimes vie with each other for the special distinction of having the "X" virus, the "Q" virus, the "Echo" virus, and the "Peruvian" virus.

There was a time — a very short time — when the "six-day" virus was prominent. Unfortunately, this was a slow-moving, unimpressive and undistinguished virus. It quickly lost status.

Next came the "forty-eight-hour" virus, which dramatically entered like a lion and just as quickly departed like a lamb.

We are now in the age of the jet-propelled "two-hour" virus, which breaks all records for distinction.

Many truths are interwoven in such apparent facetiousness.

Closely related to the indiscriminate use of the virus as an "explanation" is the indiscriminate use of antibiotics, too often demanded by patients themselves, in order to affect a rapid cure.

The speed of recovery must not always be attributed to the antibiotics, for they have remarkably little effect on viral diseases.

Physicians should not be pressured by patients who try to dictate their own antibiotic therapy. Physicians choose drugs with discrimination, and prescribe them for a medical need and not because of social pressure.

What is a virus?

A virus is the tiniest of all known living parasites. The virus is a small particle which depends on plant or animal cells for growth and reproduction. Most viruses are invisible and have only recently been seen under the powerful electron microscope.

Are there many kinds of viruses?

Hundreds of different viruses are known to exist. Many of them are disease-producing. Measles, mumps, chicken pox, polio, small pox and influenza are only a few of the diseases caused by viruses.

How can a virus be definitely diagnosed?

It is exceedingly difficult to accurately diagnose most viral diseases.

The clinical appearance of chicken pox, measles and such childhood diseases is characteristic enough for accurate diagnosis.

During periods of large epidemics caused by the virus of influenza, laboratory and blood studies may be of help in the early recognition of the disease.

Dear Abby: Silence Is Golden!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband's mother is getting on in years, but she still enjoys shopping personally for all of her grand children's Christmas gifts. She starts in October. She sends the gifts directly to me, and I do all of her gift-wrapping and mailing. Abby, she selected a book (I suppose you would call it a FACTS OF LIFE book) for her fourteen-year-old grandson. I looked through it, and it explains how he grew from a little seed that was planted under his mother's heart! Abby, you know very well that a 14-year-old boy would have a laughing fit if he ever got a book like that. Should I tell Nana that the book is too juvenile for him? My husband says to send the book and keep my opinions to myself. Who is right?

MRS. D. DEAR MRS. D.: Your husband. Send the book.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 15. Two of her girl friends have made a habit of coming home with her every night after school and staying until it is time for remarks such as, "Gee, that us to eat supper. They make smells good!" And "Well, guess I'll have to go home and fix myself a cheese sandwich for supper." The mothers of both these girls work, and they are expected to get their own evening meals. I haven't the heart to send them home, but you would think they would have sense enough to go without being told. I wouldn't mind feeding them once in a while, but I can't afford to feed them both every night. What should I do?

ON A BUDGET DEAR ON: These girls are your daughter's friends and it is up to her to tell them in a nice way that they cannot stay for dinner every night. If you explain it to her gently and without anger she can tell them in the same spirit and there will be no hurt feelings.

DEAR ABBY: I just don't understand people. Or maybe it's just me, but what do you think about having a big party to celebrate a couple's wedding anniversary when one of them has been dead for two years? Some friends got together and made a big party and even pitched in and bought a present for the woman. Do you think she should have accepted it? I don't think it was right. What do you think? They said they wanted to cheer her up.

KANSAS DEAR KANSAS: I think the friends were thoughtful to have wanted to "cheer up" the woman—but a party was out of order. Anniversaries are celebrated only when both parties can celebrate. Since the gift was well-intended, she would have been rude to have refused it.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13½

years old, stand 5 ft. 5, weigh 135 pounds, and I am a bed-wetter. My parents think it is just laziness on my part and that I don't want to quit, but that isn't true. They have tried everything from whipping me to embarrassing me in front of my friends, but I still wet the bed. Don't suggest a doctor because my parents are against doctors and they'd never take me. What can I do?

BED-WETTER DEAR BED - WETTER: Plead with your parents to take you to a doctor. Only he can tell whether your problem is physical or emotional (which it usually is). If your parents refuse to take you to a doctor, confide in your school nurse. It is nothing to be ashamed of. It's not your fault, and you have plenty of company.

Sorority Holds Social Meeting

Several games were played with prizes going to Lois Brown, Emma Curlett, Rose Snook, Marilyn Scranton and Jane Badertscher. The door prizes were won by Jane Badertscher and Frances Lucas.

Refreshments were served to the following members, Miss Jane Badertscher, Mrs. Reber Bell, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Charles Curlett, Mrs. Richard Sealock, Mrs. Howard Snook, Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. Roger Thomas and Mrs. L. Robert Scranton. Members were reminded to bring food for the Thanksgiving baskets to the next business meeting Nov. 24.

The chapter plans to have its annual Christmas dinner party 6:30 p. m. Dec. 15 at Prairie Lanes.

Six Circleville Tiger Footballers Named to Mythical All-SCO Team

JACK MARTIN

By STEVE JONES

Wilmington, Circleville and Hillsboro paced the balloting for the All-South Central Ohio League football team announced last night at the fall banquet in the Washington High School cafeteria.

The six players from Circleville on the mythical squad are Jeff Ankrom, offensive tackle; Don Fausnaugh, offensive guard; Jack Martin, center; Mike Ramey, defensive end; Jim Starkey, defensive tackle; Howard (Hodge) Dade, defensive halfback.

Named to the honorable mention list from Circleville were Mick Tomlinson, Mansil Hurlbut, Charlie Smith, Gene Smith, Eddie Smith and Chet Iery.

In all a total of 25 boys were named to the two unit All-SCO team — 12 in the offensive team and 13 on the defensive team.

MOST of the players in the league saw action on both offense and defense. South Central Ohio League coaches, by means of ballot, picked the youth they considered the best at each position. No player was named to both units.

The All-SCO backfield combines speed, elusiveness, power and passing, with an outstanding array of linemen to lead the way.

The team is quarterbacked by Jim McConaughy of Hillsboro. A deft ball handler and good runner, he was the league's leading passer.

Mike (Big Daddy) Wilson, a devastating 253-pound fullback for the Wilmington Hurricane, was named at fullback.

The halfbacks are a pair of speedsters, both of whom run the 100-yard dash in 10-seconds. They are Wilmington's Bucky

MIKE RAMEY

HOWARD DADE

JEFF ANKROM

DON FAUSNAUGH

Scott and Washington's Allen Griffiths.

At one end is Phil Lucas of Hillsboro, one of McConaughy's favorite targets during the past season. Gale Gerard of Wilmington was named at the other end.

THE TACKLES are Ankrom,

JIM STARKEY

a 201-pound senior from CHS, and Jim Vanzant of Greenfield who weighs 194 pounds.

Three guards were named in the balloting. They were Fausnaugh, a 5-foot 9-inch, 185-pound fire plug; Joe McFadden, of Washington, the lightest lineman at 150 pounds; and Hank Stroop of Wilmington.

McFadden was the lone junior on the offensive team.

The defensive team had Ramey and Jack Carder of Wilmington at ends; Starkey and Carroll Dieber of Washington C. H. at tackles and a pair of middle guards in Steve Shots of Hillsboro and Hugh Lockinas of Miami Trace.

Interior linebackers picked by the coaches were Jim Burket of Hillsboro and Terry Moffit of Wilmington. The outside linebackers were Jake Grooms, of Greenfield, Jim Redkey of Hillsboro and Len Patterson of Wilmington.

At defensive halfback players named were Dade and Bob Williams of Wilmington.

IN ALL, Wilmington had eight players on the team, Circleville six, Hillsboro five, Washington C. H. three, Greenfield two and Miami Trace one.

Repeaters from last year's All-League team are Scott, Wilson and Patterson of Wilmington.

The final league standings had Wilmington on top with a 5-0 record, Circleville second at 4-1, Hillsboro with a 3-2 league record third, Greenfield fourth at 2-3, Washington C. H. fifth at 1-4, and winless Miami Trace last.

The league trophy was presented to Dean Waddell, Wilmington Coach. Doing the honors was Robert W. Moyer, principal of Wilmington High School.

The speaker at the banquet was Jimmy Crum, sports director of WLWC.

Here are the players who made the honorable mention list from schools other than Circleville:

Hillsboro — Joe Thompson, Gary Boone, Elgar Brown, Lyn Dent, Jim Ward.

Greenfield — John Caplinger, Ralph Nooks, Bob Nooks, David Clyburn, Nick Blazer, Don Dietrich, Jeff Pollard, Dusty Johnson, George DeHaas, Tom Williams.

Washington C. H. — Steve Heath, Howard Leaverton, Barry Kelley, Dale Lunch, Skip Curl, Harry Haines, Tom Scott, Jim Wilson, Skip Stewart, Tony Kellough, Paul Stanforth, Craig Knisley, Steve LeMaster.

Miami Trace — Wayne Wallace, Steve Evans, Dale McBee, Dave Seaman.

Wilmington — John McElwee, Ted Chenault, Bruce Waring, Jay Walraven, Mark McKay.

Bret Hanover, Noble Victory Win Laurels

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Noble Victory and Bret Hanover, a pair of fast-stepping 2-year-olds, have been named the country's best juvenile trotter and pacer, respectively, for 1964. The U.S. Trotting Association announced the selections, following a coast-to-coast vote by members of the U. S. Harness Writers Association and other experts.

Noble Victory, certain to be the winter book favorite for the 1965 Hambletonian and other classics for 3-year-olds, received 138 of 182 votes for the trotting honors. Bret Hanover paced the pacers with 174 of a possible 182.

Bret Hanover, strong contender for "harness horse of the year" laurels, was unbeaten in 24 starts and eared $173,298 for owner Richard Downing of Shaker Heights, Ohio, and trainer Frank Ervin.

Noble Victory, owned by K. D. Owen of Houston, Tex., and trained by Stanley Dancer, lost only one of 19 starts this year and earned $141,163.

Just Scratch That Date From Perry's Calendar

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Doyt Perry would just as soon forget last Saturday.

That was the day that wasn't for the veteran coach and his unbeaten Bowling Green team.

The Falcons, only the week before, had captured their fourth Mid-American Conference championship in six years.

There was a lot riding on that Saturday engagement with Ohio University. A record crowd of 14,610 watched as the Falcons bid to extend their winning streak to nine and avenge last year's 16-0 setback to the Bobcats.

In sight was Bowling Green's first perfect season since 1959 and with it a possible bowl berth.

But when the final gun sounded, Perry and company had suffered a humiliating 21-0 defeat that took the luster off an otherwise successful season.

"I was afraid this might happen," Perry said dejectedly afterwards. "I knew Ohio could hurt us inside. They sure did. Ohio is a well-coached team and knew exactly what it was doing all afternoon."

Jubilant Bobcat coach Bill Hess commented:

"This is the greatest effort I have ever seen from any team I ever coached . . . it was simply magnificent."

It marked only the third time in 10 years that a Perry-coached team had been blanked, and Ohio has administered the whitewash the last two times.

Fullback Wash Lyons, a soph sensation from Ashtabula, was a key factor with 84 yards rushing in 29 tries and two touchdowns.

But it was an unheralded halfback who turned the tide. Jerry France took the second half kickoff on his own five and sped to the BG one before he was pulled down. That nifty runback set up Ohio's second touchdown and put the game out of reach.

Stew Williams, the Falcons' highly touted fullback, was held to 48 yards in 11 efforts.

In the one remaining league game this week, Ohio (3-1-1) plays host to Marshall (3-2) in a struggle for second place honors. If Marshall wins, it will share the spot with Miami (4-2). If the Bobcats prevail, they'll cop runnerup honors.

Bowling Green, trying, to finish on a winning note, visits rugged Xavier which already shows a 23-9 triumph over Ohio and a 7-7 deadlock against Miami; Kent State plays at Dayton; Miami meets Cincinnati and Toledo has the unenviable task of facing prolific passing star Jerry Rhome and his Tulsa mates. Rhome holds more than a dozen of collegiate records.

Sherman's Wife Is Silent Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — Things have been bad for the New York Giants and Coach Allie Sherman this season but they reached a new low when Sherman returned home after his club had tied St. Louis 10-10 in a raging rainstorm Sunday.

When he got into the house Sherman noticed his favorite trophy, the Touchdown Club's 1963 Coach-of-the-Year award, missing from its customary spot.

The coach soon located his prized hardware — in the family kitchen. It was reposing — of all places — atop the garbage pail.

"The only one who could have put it there," Sherman chuckled, "was my wife."

Snell Beats Mark

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Peter Snell of New Zealand, a double gold medalist at the Tokyo Olympics, bettered his own world record in the mile today by three-tenths of a second with a 3:54.1 clocking. Snell set the previous world mark of 3:54.4 on Jan. 27, 1962, at Wanganui, New Zealand.

The 25-year-old Snell, a salesman in Auckland, broke the record at Western Springs Stadium, running on a cinder track.

Jake Charter, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., bowler, rolled an 834 series in Newburgh, N. Y., this summer. His scores were 278, 277 and 279.

Manager Dave Bristol's 1964 San Diego Padres won the Western Division title then added the Pacific Coast League playoff crown.

Swami Gives Final Nod To Michigan over Bucks

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—The O' Swami closes shop on another football season and tries to beat the posse out of town.

Going for his final fling of forecasting, he is battered with a 32-23 (.582) record.

Michigan 23, Ohio State 17—Too much Timberlake, Ward, Anthony and Detweiler for the Bucks to handle. The classy Wolverines take their first Big Ten crown since 1950 and start pointing for the Rose Bowl.

Illinois 19, Michigan State 17—Should be a barn-burner highlighted by a ground-gaining duel between the Spartans' Dick Gordon and Illini Jim Grabowski.

Garbowski smashed a 21-year-old Big Ten rushing record against Wisconsin with 239 yards in 33 trips.

Purdue 21, Indiana 14—The traditional Old Oakne Bucket scrap. If Bob Hadrick, one of the nation's best pass catchers, is off the injury list, the Boiler-makers should take it. With him sidelined last week, the offense sputtered and Minnesota cashed in.

Minnesota 23, Wisconsin 10—The Buffeted Badgers, winding up at home, could make a great try to salvage something from one of their worst seasons. But the Gophers' John Hankinson is just too much.

Notre Dame 27, Iowa 14—Gary Snook probably will do more throwing than a baseball pitcher. The Irish are good at the pickoff play with a pass defense hubbed by Tony Carey. The series stands at 10-8 for the Irish with three ties. It was interrupted last year when the game was cancelled after President Kennedy's death.

Future wrapup:
Notre Dame 21, Southern California 14—A perfect season for the Irish.

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Cosby, one of the brightest of the new comedians, has been signed to co-star in an action-adventure series, "I Spy," aimed at NBC's schedule next fall.

The show will be produced by Sheldon Leonard, the man behind a string of successful series that have spun off CBS' old "Danny Thomas Show." Exteriors will be shot on location in Hong Kong. Most important, it will be the first time a Negro has had a lead role in a dramatic series.

'Bama Coach Shows Strain Of Winning

NEW YORK (AP) — Bear Bryant looked like a man who had got stuck in the wringer. His face was creased with concern. His shoulders sagged. He was the picture of despair.

"Whew, I don't know whether I'll make it through the season or not," the Alabama coach moaned.

Wayne Hardin was full of bounce and buoyancy. He smiled and joked. He was perfectly relaxed.

"Only one to go—Army," said the red-haired Navy coach.

It's much tougher on a football coach to win than to lose, the two men agreed today.

Bryant and Hardin were in New York as guests of the Metropolitan Football Writers.

Bryant, who looked as if he had just been burned in effigy on the main street at Tuscaloosa, came to town to discuss a team that had won nine straight, was ranked second nationally and already assured of a spot in the Orange Bowl at Miami.

Hardin's job was to talk about Navy, a team that had skidded from a 9-1 record and No. 2 national ranking in 1963 to a disappointing 3-5-1 in 1964, with the tough Army game ahead.

Hardin badly needs the Army scalp to keep followers of the Midshipmen from asking: "What happened?"

"Being coach of a team on a winning streak is much harder on you than it is when you lose a few," the Navy coach said.

But there's naturally not a coach who doesn't prefer the worry and pressures of a winning season.

"When you have a good string going, as we had last year and Alabama and Notre Dame among others have this year, you are scared to death. You always expect something to happen. You are waiting for the ax to fall."

Bryant agreed.

"It's really rugged on you when you're winning," he said.

"There's an old theory that the best way for a coach to live a pleasant existence is to be just partly successful, not completely successful, to keep his team around second or third place and perhaps win a championship occasionally enough to ward off criticism."

"No nobody is willing to settle for that. All of us want to win. We wouldn't be worth our salt if we didn't."

Bryant agreed.

Massillon Takes Tenth AP High School Crown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Massillon's mighty Tigers appeared right at home today as they perched on the throne for the tenth time as champions of Ohio's high school football.

It was just a formality, after their great comeback victory by 20-14 over Canton McKinley's second-ranked Bulldogs in Saturday's classic before more than 22,000 fans, but the state's Associated Press sports editors—50 of them—pinned the "champion" tag on the Tigers today in the final poll of the campaign.

The Massillons were behind 14-0 as the final period started, but they came up with a miracle man to take it all. The hero was second-string quarterback Dave Sheegog, a 17-year-old cool customer who took command of the sagging Tigers and led them to the conquest.

It was a heartbreaker for the Bulldogs, 1955 and 1956 state kings. They had the 1964 title in their grasp until the last 54 seconds when Sheegog slipped through the line for a 14-yard touchdown which wrapped it up for the Tigers.

Each team went into the game with a 9-0 record, and everyone knew the championship hung on the outcome as the Stark County rivals met in their annual "tale of two cities" saga.

The championship was the first for Earle Bruce, the new Massillon mentor, who won coach-of-the-year laurels in 1961 and 1963 at Sandusky. The touchdown tutor now has a personal unbeaten streak of 32 games, 10 this year and 22 at Sandusky.

So close was the contest that the 50 voters kept the Bulldogs right where they were in the poll, in second place. Springfield's Wildcats left no doubt they are the best in the south as they finished third with a 10-0 record.

Only one change came in the final poll. Cincinnati Roger Bacon won Sunday 8-0 over Cincinnati Elder, ending that tenth-ranked club's eight-game winning streak, and Fremont St. Joe's nine-game winners—who haven't been beaten in three years—replaced the Queen City club.

Although the official title and the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophy go to Massillon as a result of The Associated Press poll, any number of teams are eligible to claim at least a slice of the championship. Any team which won all its games did everything the coaches and fans could ask, and all the unbeaten are due a portion of the laurels.

In addition to the seven "clean" teams in the top 10, other unblemished ones included Wyoming, Pikeston, Johnstown, Logan and Hamilton Catholic with 10 in a row, and nine-game winners Ironton St. Joe, Gahanna Lincoln, Firelands, Mineral Ridge and Brecksville.

Logan beat Hillsboro 46-0 for its first perfect season in 30 years, and its 17th straight win. Bellevue won the Northern Ohio League title for the fourth time in a row with 7-0-2.

Irish Remain In First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Undeclared Notre Dame's impressive 34-7 victory over Michigan State enabled the Fighting Irish to increase their lead in The Associated Press college football poll with only two weeks left before the national titleholder is crowned.

The weekend results followed form sheets closely, thus the only changes among the Top Ten involved the bottom three places.

Louisiana State, which beat Mississippi State 14-10, advanced one notch to eighth. Syracuse and Oregon took over the last two spots, replacing Oregon State and Georgia Tech.

Syracuse beat Virginia Tech 20-15 and moved into the No. 9 position. Oregon took over the 10th spot with a 29-21 conquest of Indiana. Oregon State, eighth a week ago, was beaten by Stanford 16-7 and Georgia Tech, 10th last week, dropped a 24-7 verdict to second-ranked Alabama.

Arkansas held third place with 361 points, followed by Nebraska with 307 and Texas 246. Michigan is No. 6 with 235 and Ohio State is in seventh place with 185.

Casey's Mets May Get Yogi

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra, a two-time loser in October, may have his cake and eat it today.

The deposed New York Yankees manager, with a $25,000 going-away gift from his old bosses in his pocket, was expected to become a member of the New York Mets coaching staff at $40,000 per year, with the announcement forthcoming at a Shea Stadium news conference.

Berra, who lost his one-year managerial job a day after the Yankees lost the deciding World Series game to St. Louis last month, reportedly will sign a two-year, $80,000 contract as a member of Casey Stengel's strategy board and occasional pinch-hitter.

The $25,000 "bonus," which Berra will get if he steps out of the job the Yankees offered him after his dismissal as field boss, was made public Monday by Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk.

His anticipated signing with the Mets will end an 18-year career in the Yankee organization. Yogi, 39, played for the Yankees from 1946 until he replaced Houk as manager last season. He was the American League's most valuable player 1951, 1954 and 1955.

Browns Keyed For Contest With Packers

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns are ready, willing and able for their game against Green Bay Sunday, but there are some doubts about the Packers.

They're ready and willing, to be sure, but there's some question about how able. Quarterback Bart Starr was knocked cold last Sunday in San Francisco, halfback Paul Horning has a pinched nerve and halfback Jess Whitteon has been sidelined two weeks with a pulled leg muscle.

The Packers' team physician said Starr seemed to be all right and is expected to report for practice today. But it's still too early to know if he'll be ready for the Browns Sunday in Milwaukee's County Stadium.

Horning's pinched nerve has resulted in a stiff neck.

"I'm anxious to play Green Bay," said quarterback Frank Ryan. "I know they have a good team but I'm looking forward to this game." Cornerback Bernie Parrish added:

"I think we're ready for anyone. This is a mean, nasty football team and it's gonna stay that way from now on."

The Browns, with an 8-1 record, are leading the second place St. Louis Cardinals by 2½ games in the Eastern Division of the National Football League.

Green Bay, beaten 24-14 by San Francisco Sunday, is tied with Minnesota for third place in the Western Division. Both have 5-5 records.

Aching Bucks

Hamper Hayes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "It cuts down your efficiency, losing your left half and your fullback," a somber-faced Woody Hayes told newsmen.

The Ohio State football boss referred at his weekly press luncheon Monday to Saturday's winner-take-all scramble with Michigan and to the injuries of two key players.

Halfback Tom Barrington has a neck injury and is a doubtful starter in the Ohio Stadium showdown for the Big Ten championship and a Rose Bowl bid.

Will Sander, Hayes' big fullback, had his shoulder twisted in the Bucks' 10-0 victory over Northwestern last week. Sander may not see action.

Barrington probably will give up his starting job to Leon Lindsey while Sander, if he does play will get a lot of help from sophomore Paul Hudson who made his first appearance Saturday against the Wildcats, Hayes said.

Rested Cager Back

BALTIMORE (AP) — Capt. Bill Russell was expected to return to action with his Celtics teammates tonight after undergoing hospital tests for exhaustion and inability to sleep.

MUSICAL BEING REHEARDED — The Circleville High School production of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" will be presented Friday and Saturday in the CHS Auditorium. Several characters from the musical comedy are seen here in one of the "surprise" scenes of the play. The piece of luggage used during rehearsals was empty, but cast members guarantee the contents to be a surprise during the two actual performances. A few choice seats are still available and may be reserved at the high school.

Private Plane Carrying Four Lost in Lake

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—The Coast Guard resumes its search today for a single-engine plane, believed to be carrying four persons, which crashed and sank Monday in Lake Erie a half mile east of Kellys Island.

The Coast Guard stopped the search Monday night because of darkness and bad weather.

The plane is believed to be a Cessna 172 Skyhawk that took off from Strongsville Air Park Monday morning. The plane had been rented by Wayne R. Davidson, 42, of Cleveland. It has space for a pilot and three passengers.

Lee Davidson of Cleveland, the missing pilot's brother, spent Monday in the crash area. He said his brother had not returned home last night.

Two of the passengers are believed to be a Parma Heights couple. A neighbor said they had talked about going hunting at Kellys Island.

James Terwilliger of Cleveland who was in a boat duck hunting, saw the plane crash about 8 a. m. The tail section protruded from the water for a moment, then sank, he said.

The Coast Guard secured a tow on the fuselage, sunk in about 25 feet of water, but it

Hot-Headed Teen-Agers Trying New Hairstyles

EDITOR'S NOTE: A new fad of teen-aged girls to keep their hair ruler-straight is keeping mother's ironing board busy. The girls lay their heads on the board like Marie Antoinette at the guillotine; their pals press the tresses. Joy Stillely, wife of Associated Press Writer Francis Stillely, tells how girls have the hotfoot to their heads.

More Workers Idle At Ford

DETROIT (AP) — Nearly half of Ford Motor Co.'s auto factory work force was idle today because of what the company calls a strike-caused parts shortage.

Ford, which has 160,000 hourly paid workers, brought the idle total to the 70,000 mark with two more plant layoffs Monday.

The new layoffs, affecting 11,500 men, were at the Chicago and Los Angeles car assembly plants.

Ford has said its entire 90-plant nationwide system may be forced to close by the week unless local strikes by the United Auto Workers are settled.

Five strikes involving 16,700 men continue out of the group of nine that began Nov. 6. They include key parts plants in Ypsilanti and in Sterling Township, Mich., and the Buffalo, N.Y., stamping plant as well as two assembly operations at Wayne, Mich.

sudden there's more ironing going on in our house than in a Chinese laundry.

It's not that our clothes have suddenly become more creaseless. In fact, it isn't cotton, silk, nylon, rayon, dacron, wool or linen getting the steam-spray treatment. It's hair.

Our high school sophomore daughter and her friends are steamed up hotter than the iron on the latest teen-age fad of making their tresses ruler-straight. The pressing problem these days is to eliminate every vestige of wave — and pity the poor girl whose hair insists on turning up at the ends after getting the hotfoot.

For years now Gay's room has been the scene of a nightly ritual. Armed with huge rollers, the participants vied with each other to see who could pack the most curlers into a given cranial area. That was for curling.

Now the activities have shifted to the kitchen, where an ironing board is the center of attraction and each victim in turn lays her head on it with the expression Marie Antoinette wore when she approached the guillotine.

But when they kneel beside the board in supplication, it's not for mercy. Their plea to the executioner is to comb it a little straighter, press it a little harder, make sure their old crowning glory no longer wavers.

The modus operandi consists of spreading the hair out on the board, combing it as straight as possible and ironing it with an intensity designed to make it stay that way.

All of a sudden, after years of complete disinterest in standing over a hot iron, Gay finds it the most indispensable appliance in the house, superseding even the television in her affections.

She's run into one problem, however, with the new hairstyle. "I've been sleeping on rollers every night for so long," she complains, "I just can't fall asleep with nothing on my head."
